

Lori Wellinghoff | Bio

Lori and her husband David moved from Cincinnati to Hilton Head in September of 2020 where they are fulltime residents.

Previously, Lori was the Founder & CEO of DIGS |Real Estate| Design | Construction|™ - her "2nd act" after 20+years in the media & marketing industries.

Along with her team of exceptional professionals, over 2,000 clients benefitted from DIGS one-stop-shop services:

- Real Estate Representation (the DIGS team ranked in the top-10 out of nearly 6,000 Cincinnati area agents)
- Interior/Exterior Architecture & Design
- Construction for Home/Condo Renovations & Additions

In December of 2019 Lori sold DIGS.

Previously Lori was SVP/COO at Fortune-100 Clear Channel Worldwide Advantage Division (Radio, Live Entertainment, Television, Outdoor, Interactive) and prior to that she served as a Divisional SVP/GM for Grey Advertising Worldwide.

Lori currently serves on the boards of the Coastal Discovery Museum and the Sea Pines Property Owners Association. She is also a member of the Greater Island Council, Women in Philanthropy, the World Affairs Council and the President's Circle of the Lean Ensemble Theater. Lori and David are also "farmers" at the Heritage Community Garden in Sea Pines.

Prior to moving to HHI Lori was a member of United Way Tocqueville Society and the Cincinnati Art Museum Founders Society. Lori served on the boards of the Cincinnati Parks Foundation, Enjoy the Arts (board chair) and the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and was the long-serving board president of the Hyde Park Square Business Association.

In 2013, the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce named Lori "Entrepreneur of the Year" and in 2012 Hyde Park Square named her "Person of the Year."
